TRIBUTE TO WARRIOR THEERAN CHINNAMALAI

Thousands of Tamilians paid tribute to warrior Theeran Chinnamalai Manradiyar today in his village in Erode district where he lived and died. Volunteers in the western region together are running a Kongu Cultural Center. They are doing our traditional dance very special with a shag on their feet.

They not only dance but also dance in the festival with small explanations about natural agriculture, traditional cattle, millet foods etc. to join our culture society literature and cultural literature in each game and also with small speeches like Villupattu. This is also their specialty.

All of these volunteers went to Senapathi Kangayam Veterinary Research Centre today with natural agriculture, dung cow urine and self dependent agriculture. Our heartfelt wishes to them.

27.09.2018 - Mr.Shankar the founder of most reputed Sankar IAS academy who was impressed by our role in the society joined as a patron of SKCRF.His joining as a patron was a very happy news for our team.

03.10.2018 - SKCRF conducted an One day National level workshop on sustainable agriculture at NGP College in Pollachi.The programme was very successful as the participants was very eager to know about us and shared their willingness to join us in future.

04.10.2018 - Mrs. Padmini from Salem district visited Senapati Kangayam Veterinary Research Center to learn about natural agriculture, method of preparing vegetables, etc. With an understanding of it, traditional cattle and organic farming are going to be a good start. Our heartiest congratulations to them.

06.10.2018 - Students of SSN College of engineering came to SKCRF Chennai .We know adults in these days lost intrest in traditional stuffs but our opinion changed by seeing their involvement in the farm. Involved in various activities from testing of noyyal river water, rain water harvesting, tree planting, green safari, and learning about pollution, livestock, organic farming and livelihoods.

30.10.2018 - A day in SKCRF. students of SKL public matriculation school, Thirumuraganpoondi, New Tiruppur, Tiruppur attended a days session on livestock keeping, zero budget farming, native grazing system, rain water harvesting, biodiversity and environmental issues.

SKCRF works with students " catch them young, filling young minds to love trees, nature, native animals, care for environment, not to pollute."

31.10.2018 - students of White Clouds Public School, Tirupur students visited SKCRF today. students were explained about river eco system, south indian rivers and how to conserve western ghats, native seeds, use of cow dung, urine in natural farming, visit to korangadu in a jeep safari and many more.

8.12.2018 - Chettinad vidya mandir, karur students made a visit to SKCRF and they were given badam saplings to plant in their homes, they were very happy in receiving it. This act creates an eagerness in students to grow more saplings.
